Maria Zemp, real name Giovanna Sfondrini, lives and works in Milan. After studying Advertising and Visual Design, she worked as an Art Director in Milan for various Advertising Agencies. In 1993 she started her own free lance activity in Advertising Graphics www.sfondrini.it.

In 2011 she decided to come back to a manual and handicraft dimension, canvas, paint-brushes and colours.

So there are the Modular Object Paintings: unique graphic objects, fully hand-made, in which graphic experience, individual creativity and search about colours and shapes, combine all together.

The paintings are signed with the name Maria Zemp, in order to separate from the activity of Graphic Design Giovanna Sfondrini, two parallel but separated ways to live graphic creativity.

Modular Object Paintings are at the same time abstract paintings and furniture elements, they are fully hand painted on canvas, with acrylics colours and modelling past. They consist in modular sequences: every subject is composed by two or more canvas that can be combined in different ways, fitting to taste, personal style and change desire.

Besides the suggestions, it's possible to create other compositions following personal creativity, thanks to modular sizes and colours, combining together more subjects.

There are three main groups: DOMINO, SQUARES and WINDOWS.
